

Charade Circle

DEBRIEF ACTIVITY

INSTRUCTIONS

Students begin this activity by forming a circle. Each student has a turn to act out their answers to the following reflection questions regarding the lesson just completed:

"What did you like best about this lesson?"

"What did you like least about this lesson?"

"What did you learn by participating in this lesson?"

"What is one word you can use to describe how you feel about this lesson?"

"What are some other lessons that you would like to participate in?"

"What, if anything, will you do differently at home because of the experiences you had while participating in this lesson?"

"If we did this lesson again, what could we do to make it better?"

These questions will help the students reflect on the good work accomplished. Ensure the students know not to share their answers with anyone. This game can be played in two ways: either give each student a turn to act their answer for each reflection question posed, or ask for one to two students to act their answer for each question, making sure to rotate students so everyone has a turn.
